PLAGUE BILLS

Expenses Incurred In Epidemic.

Will be Published in Full in the Advertiser Daily as Space Permits.

Through the courtesy of the Interior Department the Advertiser is enabled each day to present to the public a portion of the enormous number of bills incurred during the epidemic of bubonic plague in Honolulu. The number of these accounts published daily depends altogether on the amount of space available. The bills are printed in the order filed in the Interior Department, so that dates will not necessarily be consecutive, nor will any other order than that in which the bills are filed be carried out in their publication.
